

PROTEST AGAINST SUNDAY OPENING

Y. P. S. C. E. Adopts Resolutions.

GATES OF FAIR AND EXPOSITIONS SHOULD CLOSE.

Another Was That Against the Seating of Congressman Roberts, of Utah, Whom They Denounce—Charge the Western Politician With Polygamy—Strong Memorial to Congress Will Probably Be the Result of the Rev. W. M. Paden's Appeal—Many Meetings Held in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—[Special]—The trustees of the Christian Endeavor society this morning adopted a resolution protesting against the opening of the gates of any national exposition or fair on Sunday.

Another resolution advanced was a protest against the seating of Congressman Roberts of Utah.

Detroit, July 7.—An impassioned appeal to 10,000 people in Tent Endeavor was made last night by Rev. W. M. Paden, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Salt Lake City. He urged the 3,000,000 members of the Christian Endeavor society to use every means in their power toward unsating B. H. Roberts, the recently elected congressman from Utah. He boldly charged Mr. Roberts with being a polygamist—indeed, one "who is living with at least three wives." He stated that Roberts' election to congress has again made polygamy a living issue in Utah, and that the pulpits and most of the press of the state are arrayed solidly in the war against having such a representative in the halls of our national legislature.

The address created such a profound stir that at the meeting of the trustees of the united societies a strong memorial to congress and to the people of the country at large will undoubtedly be drafted. Mr. Paden came to Detroit at the instigation of the pulpits of the state of Utah to make this appeal.

KNOW SURGEON CLENNENN

Major J. B. Whiting, Jr. Was Well Acquainted With Yellow Fever's Victim

Major J. B. Whiting, Jr., was well acquainted with Captain Clendennin, the army surgeon who died at Santiago on July 4 of yellow fever, having met him while with the army in Havana.

"Captain Clendennin was a big strong man, a typical army surgeon," said Major Whiting last night. "To see him was to get the idea that if yellow fever swept all the other people off the island, that Clendennin would escape unscathed. His death shows the relentlessness of yellow fever. The giant has no more show than the helpless infant. It treats all people exactly alike. Capt. Clendennin was an excellent physician, and a fine gentleman, and I was surprised and pained to hear of his death."

Capt. Clendennin was a native of Illinois and entered the army as an assistant surgeon in November, 1886. He reached the grade of captain in November, 1891. In June, 1898, he entered the volunteer establishment as a brigade surgeon with the rank of major. He was in charge of the army hospital at Santiago.

Critical Friend—Well, that being the case, I would advise you to use up the manuscript for fuel. It might at least help to heat the other irons.

A STREET FAIR AT BELOIT

Merchants Plan a Festival for the Week of September 4.

The Beloit Free Press says that several prominent business men of Beloit are agitating the question of holding a mammoth street fair in that city, beginning Monday evening, September 4 and continuing three days, and encouragement to the project has been given by every merchant yet approached.

The plans being considered are yet in their infancy, but provide for the celebration to be held September 4, 5 and 6, the first of which is Labor Day, when an industrial parade and exhibit will be given which will eclipse anything ever attempted in this part of the country. The day following will be made a harvest festival devoted to the country folks principally, with exhibits of agricultural products and fine stock and a monster parade. Wednesday the last day of the fair will be civic day, when the city interests will be brought to the front and a splendid floral parade will be made a great feature.

A FORMAL CALL FOR VOLUNTEER TROOPS

TEN REGIMENTS TO BE RECRUITED FOR SERVICE

Term of Enlistment of the New Men Destined For the Philippines, Is Until June 30, 1901, Unless Peace Shall Terminate It Earlier—Work For Wheeler.

Washington, July 7.—The war department Thursday made public a formal call for organizing ten volunteer regiments in the United States. It also announced the appointment of seven more colonels and seven majors. This leaves two colonels, ten lieutenant colonels and twenty-three majors to be appointed, all but two or three of whom will be taken from the regular army. There will also be thirty-six surgeons, 168 captains, 192 first lieutenants and 144 second lieutenants to be appointed, and many of these will come from civil life, though all must have had experience in the war with Spain.

Each regiment will consist of fifty officers and 1,300 enlisted men. The ten regiments will therefore add 13,500 men to the force under Gen. Otis. The orders take no notice of the two regiments Gen. Otis is organizing at Manila. If he is unable to fill them out from volunteers in the Philippines they will be recruited in this country, and will add 2,718 men to his force, making a total of 16,308.

Gen. Otis has authority to organize three regiments at Manila, and though he has skeletonized but two, it is expected in Washington that he will ultimately start the third, in which event his re-enforcements will number 17,767. This will bring his army at its maximum to about 47,800, exclusive of the hospital corps.

It is reported unofficially that Gen. Otis has organized a company of Filipinos under the authority given him to raise a battalion of natives. It is quite possible he will have an army of 43,000 troops when the dry season sets in, and the president will give him more if he calls for them.

Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan are to furnish one of the ten regiments. Capt. Cornelius Gardener of the Nineteenth infantry will command these recruits, who will officially be known as the Thirtieth United States volunteer infantry. Fort Sheridan is the place selected for regimental headquarters until further orders. Of the other regiments, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee will furnish one; Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory another; Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Arizona and New Mexico a third, and California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska a fourth. The remaining five will be enlisted in eastern and southern states.

AMERICAN CAPTIVES IN LUZON.

Spanish Commissioners Say Aguinaldo Has Sent Them North.

Manila, July 7.—The Spanish commissioners returned here last night from their conference with Aguinaldo at Tarlac. They brought with them the Spanish garrison of Baler, which recently surrendered to the insurgents after a siege of more than a year, and fourteen civil prisoners.

The commissioners were unable to arrange with Aguinaldo for a general release of the Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos.

They report that the American prisoners held by the insurgents have been sent to the Ilocos provinces, on the northwest coast of Luzon and were at Vigan and Laoag.

About a score of Americans are in the hands of the insurgents. Fifteen of these are Lieut. Gilmore and his party from the gunboat Yorktown, who were captured in an attempt to rescue the Spanish garrison at Baler. The remainder are odd stragglers picked up by the rebels at various times.

Wheeler Is Sent to Manila.

Thomas, the prominent Presbyterian divine, president of Gale college, and a book agent named Henderson. A dispute arose over a subscription to a book, for which Dr. Thomas had agreed to write an article, the price and delivery of the work being an element in the row. The Rev. Dr. Evans, Congregational preacher of Bangor, this state, was present, and he questioned the book agent so closely that the latter became excitedly angry. The book agent replied to one of Evans' queries with: "I don't see that it is any of your business." The remark shocked the reverend gentleman, and the Rev. Dr. Thomas jumped to his feet and cried, "Don't you insult my friend! Leave my room at once." Henderson became infuriated and clinching his fist, landed a blow on Dr. Thomas' face and dashed out of the room. The latter, dazed from the effects of the blow, staggered, but as soon as he had recovered from the blow he hurried down the stairs after the agent. The agent had escaped.

Finley asserted that McKinley did not indorse the paper for a friend, but the debt was a partnership one of McKinley and Walker and part was money borrowed for use in McKinley's congressional campaign.

He declared that the money was raised by Hanna, Kohlsaat and others and was not used to pay McKinley's debts, but notes were bought and are now held by Mark Hanna as a club over McKinley's head.

America's Butter King.

Elgin, Ill., claims to be the residence of the American butter king, in the person of John Newman, who was recently elected president of the board of trade of that city. In all the world, he is probably the largest producer of that bovine gold which gilds the staff of life. Every day he drives up from the pasture herds of 55,000 cows, and every morning he skims the cream from 500,000 quarts of milk—enough fluid to float a yacht in.

Does Carry Market Baskets.

Every bee carries his market basket round his hind legs. Anyone examining the body of a bee through a microscope will observe that on the hind legs of the creature there is a fringe of stiff hairs on the surface, the hairs approaching each other at the tips, so as to form a sort of cage. This is the bee's basket, and into it, after a successful journey, he will cram enough pollen to last him for two or three days.

Of the 179 gallons only 24 gallons were utilized.

INTEREST TAKEN IN CLINTON SCHOOLS

MANY PRESENT AT ANNUAL DISTRICT MEETING.

J. F. Kemmerer Succeeds M. P. Treat as Clerk—Latter Receives a Vote of Thanks—Appropriations Voted For Ensuing Year—Amount to $4,000—Old Resident Passes Away.

Clinton, July 7.—The annual school district meeting held at the school house Monday evening was well attended, some 80 voters being present one quarter of whom were women. H. N. Crookrite was made chairman of the meeting. After the usual reports were read and accepted, a motion was made to elect a district clerk in place of M. P. Treat, whose term of office had expired. On a formal ballot Mr. Treat received within three votes of enough to elect, F. A. Ames received 15, and there were several scattering votes. Mr. Treat then withdrew his name in favor of J. F. Kemmerer, who was elected clerk on the next ballot. The school board as it now stands consists of clerk, J. F. Kemmerer, three years; director, V. E. Winegar, one year; treasurer, A. W. Shepard, two years. A resolution was offered and passed tendering Mr. Treat a vote of thanks for the able and conscientious manner in which he had discharged the duties of his office during the three years' term just expired. Another resolution was read before the meeting and passed by vote, recommending the board to lure all the old teachers who were willing to remain another year. In accordance with the new law passed by the legislature last winter, a committee consisting of M. P. Treat, A. S. Isham and J. W. Stoney was named by the meeting to examine the books and accounts of the school board and report at the next annual meeting. The total appropriations voted by the district for the ensuing year amounted to about $4,000, of which $3,000 was for teachers' wages, $330 for janitor services, $330 for fuel, $25 for apparatus, $800 for incidental expenses and $7 for interest. A hot school meeting was held in the district south-west of here, Monday evening, over fifty voters being present. Mrs. Smith won out receiving 34 votes to be retained as teacher against 18 for Mr. Dresser. The Clinton Brass band gave a fine open air concert at the band stand the evening of the Fourth which added very much to the enjoyment of the fine fire works.

Ole Ansteden, an old and respected resident of the township died Saturday, July 1, 1899, after a few months' illness. He was a native of Norway, and came to this country years ago, being one of the earliest settlers in this locality. He leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral services were held Wednesday, and the burial took place at the Norwegian cemetery, south of here. Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton and Otto Derwaldt viewed the graves of the Cream City, last week. This year's Fourth of July celebration at Clinton, will go down in history as one of the most quiet kind ever experienced. The steady downpour continued all day, and effectually prevented any attempt at carrying out the program planned. The parade was doomed at daybreak, and the race track was a sea of mud the whole afternoon. However, quite a number of people managed to reach town in the forenoon, and spent the day in gossiping with friends under dripping awnings. The boys buried cannon crackers into the street, declaring that they exploded with double violence when they fell into the water running in the gutters. The rain ceasing at night, the fireworks, representing sixty or seventy dollars, contributed by our citizens, were sent up as advertised and made a fine pyrotechnical display. The illumination drew an additional number of country residents in the evening, and the day closed with comparative success, all agreeing that Clinton did her best under the circumstances. A comparative statement of the Citizens' Bank of Clinton just issued shows the following substantial condition of that institution on July 1, 1899:

MILK INSPECTOR WAS HERE TODAY

LOCAL DEALERS SURPRISED BY CHADWICK.

Assistant State Dairy and Food Commissioner W. W. Chadwick Quietly Slipped Into Janesville This Morning—Secured His Milk Samples of Local Peddlers on the Streets.

W. W. Chadwick, of Monroe, assistant state dairy and food commissioner, was in the city today, for the purpose of examining milk peddled by local dealers. Mr. Chadwick went through the city by team and whenever he met a milk wagon he would take a sample of milk from the cans, and the name of the dairy.

These samples of milk will be sent to the state chemist at Madison for examination, and if they are not up to the standard the dealers will hear from the state authorities.

That there is very little watered milk sold in Janesville, is evident from the fact that Mr. Chadwick's former visits here have failed to show that any of the local dealers have disregarded the law.

The visits of the commissioners are at no regular time and local dealers are never aware of their coming.

In many places impure milk is feared as the result of tuberculosis. Many farmers whose cows are sick with this lung disease have been careless and have allowed the milk from the diseased cattle to be sold.

The penalty for selling impure milk is severe and those found guilty are made to pay dearly.

WHOLE WEEK OF AMUSEMENT

Anderson Theatre Company at Myers Grand.

An exchange has the following words of praise for one of the plays to be given during the engagement of the Anderson Theatre company next week.

"The world" with its wealth of special scenery and a caste far above the average opened at the Auditorium last night to a large house. The scenic effects were numerous and good. The "shipwreck" and "the raft" being two as clever pieces of stage mechanism as one would wish to witness.

Ed Anderson as Dennis and Ben Mitchell as Abrams found it no trouble to keep the audience in a roar. Geo. L. Montserrat played the villain in a manner that made the audience feel like lynching him. One of the bright features were the specialties. No better production has been given on the Auditorium stage than "The World."

THE WEST'S WINNING CREW

Chicago, Times-Herald—The West, which has contributed many race winners to the boat crews of eastern universities, has finally sent a winning crew of its own to the Hudson. By brawn, dash and staying power it has forced itself to the front in college athletics and compelled recognition from supercilious eastern critics. It has demonstrated in the matter, as it has in politics, in business, in great public enterprises, that a great superiority cannot always be obtained by the fancied superiority that must be ascribed to a kind of self opinioned provincialism.

It is the windy west; too far wind is an important factor in boat racing, and the young giants from the University of Wisconsin had eight good chests full, as was proved by their magnificent spurt in the last half mile. Despite the unfortunate accident which compelled the coxswain to steer out of his course, despite the dead water and the perplexing pleasure craft in the way, they rowed at the close with all that vim and vigor which gave them the lead at the start. Their pluck held out against every discouragement.

But it will be said that as a matter of fact they did not win, since they were second. The victory belongs to the University of Pennsylvania. That is true, and it was fairly awarded, but Wisconsin was beaten by a very close margin, not by the Quakers. It is impossible to believe, after a careful reading of numerous accounts of the race, that the latter could have won on even terms. They pulled together splendidly, kept heart wonderfully during a long chase after the pace-setters, but they were clearly outclassed in material. When full and ungrudging praise has been given them for their excellent work it is still undeniable that they owed their triumph to pure accident. If the berry crate had postponed its river excursion to a later hour, and Wisconsin had not been turned from its course there would have been a victory that would not have admitted of any explanations of defeat save that of inferiority. The best men would have come in first, and there would have been no questioning the fact.

After this there will be no "rank outsiders" from Madison when the annual race is rowed. There will be no sneering at the western style. Whether it suits the eastern experts or not it is the only style that counts in this world—the "git thar" style. The men of Wisconsin may have overlooked some fine points, but they kept the main object well in mind, and the superb confidence with which they threw in all their strength at the start was justified by the endurance that enabled them to set the pace throughout and finish in the pick of condition.

M. Quenay de Beaupaire, who resigned from the Court of Cassation because he couldn't prevent a verdict favorable to Dreyfus, is in a pickle. He had based his hopes upon an anonymous correspondent who promised to furnish proof of Dreyfus' guilt, and now the unknown gentleman refuses to come to the front. The man who writes anonymous letters is mean enough, but the man who makes use of them is meaner. Therefore, we are glad to see the gentleman with so little honor, and so much verbiage to his name, get into hot water. P. S.—And we hope that it will get still hotter.

The Janesville Gazette gives a record of Gen. Otis' career as a graduate at West Point, and as a soldier in time of peace, and says: "Facts are stubborn things." Which is true. And the fact that Gen. Otis has failed in his campaign in the Philippine islands is a fact, which, in this case, counts for more than all his past career.—Kenosha Gazette.

The Kenosha paper seems to think that the battles of the civil war in which Gen. Otis won his promotions and brevets were base ball games.

The next thing, we suppose, will be complaints that the person who has both the old and new 'phones cannot talk with people who have no 'phone at all.

Senator Jones favors "a strong fight on trusts," but says he "doesn't know how it will be done." Mr. Jones appears to be weakening. Free silver has been his cure-all, but he hates to admit that free silver would crush the trusts—by sending them into bankruptcy.

"Bryan and Stone" is the latest proposal for a presidential ticket. The suggestion is a good one. If Bryan had a heavy Stone attached to him when the people threw him overboard a short time ago, he would not have come to the surface again.

"The automobile must go" said the Chicago park board. "The automobile can go" said the courts. "The automobile will go" said the automobilists, and hence the automobiles will go—because it has come to stay.

Mayor Rose will discharge twenty republican city employes and put democrats in their places. This will be cheering news to the republican bolters, who made Mayor Rose's election possible.

If You Can Afford A Good Bicycle...

You cannot afford anything but a WOLFF-AMERICAN. They are not built merely for one year's usage, but will stand the severest strain for a number of years. The police department of New York City adopted WOLFF-AMERICAN wheels because they were far ahead of any on the market. Too strong an argument cannot be made for them—every assertion can be substantiated.

GRANDCHILDREN WANT WILL BROKEN

MRS. REBECCA MORGAN'S ESTATE BEFORE THE COURT.

Edward Morgan and Other Relatives in Minnesota Claim That Mrs. Morgan Was Influenced in Willing Most of Her Wealth to Her Daughter—Case Bitterly Contested.

In the Rock county court today before Judge J. W. Sale was heard the issue in the matter of the estate of the late Rebecca Morgan.

This spring Mrs. Morgan died at her home in Milton, leaving an estate valued in the neighborhood of $15,000.

When the will was opened, it was found that the greater portion of the estate was left to her daughter, Mrs. Ezra Goodrich of Milton. To a son, William Morgan, was left $3000.

Edward Morgan and other grandchildren, residing near Austin, Minnesota, made their way to Rock county, and secured legal advice and at once instituted legal proceedings to break the will.

The contestants are all grand children and claim that Mrs. Morgan a short time prior to her death was influenced to will the greater part of her wealth to Mrs. Goodrich. They also allege that it was members of the Morgan and Goodrich families that influenced Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. Morgan at the time of her death was eighty-nine years of age and was one of the early settlers of the county, being the wife of I. P. Morgan. Attorney E. D. McGowan is appearing in behalf of Mrs. Ezra Goodrich and Attorney Charles E. Pierce and John Cunningham for the contestants.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET

Winding Up Matters Pertaining to the Celebration.

The success of our Fourth of July celebration was so great that the members of the executive committee and the citizens of the Bower City in general demand that we again celebrate in 1900.

A meeting of the executive committee was held last evening at the office of Hon. William G. Wheeler, called for the purpose of winding up matters. The secretary was instructed to express a vote of thanks of the committee to the Hon. Burr W. Jones, of Madison, who came here to deliver the oration, but was unable to do so on account of rain, and made no charge for his time or expense.

A vote of thanks was also tendered Clinton D. Child for the able manner in which he discharged the duties of chief marshal. Mr. Child and his assistant, Dr. James Gibson, led all of the three parades and met the visiting bands and escorted them to their headquarters and escorted the performers to the several platforms.

The meeting last night adjourned until this evening at Mr. Wheeler's office, where the balance of the accounts will be settled.

CAUGHT BY CUPID

Rector-Kimbball

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Kimball, at Rockford, Ill., when their daughter Nettie was united in marriage to Wilson Rector, of Harvard, Ill. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Haskell in the presence of only the relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who is a talented young woman, formerly resided in Janesville, having spent the greater part of her life here. She was gracefully attired in white silk, mousseline de soie, with pearl trimming and conventional lace. The groom wore the conventional black. He is in the employ of the American Express company as express messenger. The couple were unattended. After a sumptuous wedding dinner had been served, the newly wedded couple left for an extended trip through the lakes and for a few of the principal cities of the north and east. They will make their home in Harvard, where the fair young bride presides over the pipe organ in the M. E. church. They will be at home to their friends after August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Rector have a host of friends who wish them many years of happiness and prosperity.

GEO. RUMRILL MAKES LARGE LEAF SALE

SELLS $30 CASES TO EARLE OF EDGERTON.

Transaction Is One of the Largest Single Tobacco Deals That Ever Took Place in This City—Soverhill & Porter and A. N. Jones Are Buyers of the Farmers.

The remnants of the '98 crop and in fact all cases goods in the hands of growers are again being sought after with a good deal of industry. Some of the local packers who have closed out their holdings, are trying to pick up another packing, which is bringing quite a revival of trade from first hands again. Possibly not far from 500 cases have been purchased by Soverhill & Porter, A. N. Jones and C. F. Tallard during the week from farmers tributary to Stoughton and Edgerton, says the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

Among packers too, recent transactions embrace probably the largest single sale of Wisconsin leaf ever effected, being 4,200 cases of the Bekkedal packing of '98 Vernon county leaf to George Underhill, for the account of Schroeder & Bon. George Rumrill, of Janesville, sold 830 cases of '97 to T. B. Earle, for the account of L. Bamberger & Co. C. L. Cullen reports the sale of 129 cases of '97. E. C. Hopkins also disposed of a 50 case lot during the week.

The planting of the new crop is completed in all sections and the general verdict is that the crop never looked finer at this time of the year. The recent soaking rains have put the early set fields beyond any danger of drought to interfere with their maturity.

The shipments out of storage reach a total of about 6000, 12 car loads, from this station to all points for the week. Since last report 8000s of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

OWNS A FLIER.

The Suburban handicap is one of the greatest races run annually on the American turf. It is run for a purse of $10,000, of which $7,000 goes to the winner. This year, for the first time on record, the Suburban was won by a mare, and, singularly enough, the owner of the mare is a woman.

Miss Harness, the owner of Imp, is the daughter of D. R. Harness, a prominent breeder of race horses, whose farm is near Chillicothe, O. Both the dam and granddam of Imp were raised on the Harness farm, and when this filly began to show signs of speed two years ago, Mr. Harness gave her to his daughter, saying that she could do as she wished with her earnings.

This spring Miss Harness determined to send her little mare east after some of the big purses. Imp was entered in the Metropolitan and Brooklyn handicaps, and her fair owner was much disappointed because her horse did not win in either. She did not see how so fast a horse could possibly be beaten. But when she sat in the grandstand, with some 35,000 other people, and saw Imp tear through the field of favorites and come in a clean winner, she forgot all her previous disappointments. Miss Harness now says that hereafter nothing will be too good for Imp, even if she never wins another race.

Most Valuable American Coin.

In the estimation of coin collectors the most valuable of all the American coins today is the perfect silver dollar of 1804. The highest auction price is $1,000, and there is a record of $1,200 having been paid for one at a private sale.

A Severe Setback.

"No, it will be several Sundays before I care to hear Rev. Mr. Dakter preach." "Why so?" "He has just returned from a fishing trip and it will take him that long to get back his veracity."

Peculiar Crime.

Escroquerie is a crime which has no distinct counterpart in any country but France. An English lady was recently sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment for ordering a costume that she was not able to pay for, and an English governess was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for taking a cab without being able to pay the fare. The French are eminently practical people, and see no great difference between running off with an article and getting it without paying for it. It often happens that the English fall under the law with regard to escroquerie.

Her Calling Cards.

Even ladies' visiting cards are now put up in book form. The new method consists in binding the cards in book form, a line of perforations separating the card proper from the stub. By this means the cards are always kept together, do not become soiled and take up but little room in the pocket.

YOUNG WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION HERE

WORKING GIRLS WILL GREATLY BE BENEFITED.

Interesting Report Has Been Gathered Concerning the Women of the Bower City—Means to the Young Ladies What the Y. M. C. A. Does to the Young Men.

At a recent parlor conference held in the interests of the work of the Young Woman's Christian association, a committee was appointed to investigate the condition of the young women of the city, and to see if there was a need for an association here. It was found that there are about 2,000 young women in the city, 700 of whom are members of Evangelical churches; 1,100 of this number are their own bread earners. A large number of the young women are from out of town, and so live in boarding houses.

These districts were reported to the state committee, and they decided that there certainly is a field for an association here, but that for several reasons it is not wise to organize until next spring. Experience has proven that the strongest associations grow slowly, some of the finest in the country having been two and three years in getting started. Another reason is the fact that a new national secretary is soon to be called, who is to devote his entire time to organizing. As Miss Teal, who has been state secretary this year has left the state, it seems wisest to wait for the new national secretary. A third reason is that the city has been recently so thoroughly canvassed for the Y. M. C. A.

The Summer Conference of the Y. W. C. A. is now in session at Lake Geneva. Janesville has a larger representation than ever before. Those who are to be there either for part or the entire time are Mrs. Elizabeth Butler and the Misses Elizabeth Van Akin, May Cunningham, Annie Valentine, Susie Lowell, Grace Wright, Carolyn Van Akin and Jessie Butler.

Flinty Coats.

If two pieces of sugar cane are rubbed together in the dark they will make a tiny light. This comes from the fact that every reed or cane or leaf of grass has a hard, flinty outside skin, which helps them to stand straight up and also keeps the tender inside from being eaten up by many of the insects.

A Thing that won't wait

Is failing eyesight. In place of getting better it grows worse, unless it is looked after at the outset. We are so apt to put off investigation into the trouble and the result is more disaster, as the defect continues. If your eyes have begun to show signs of weakness, the quicker you have them examined the better. If glasses are all that is necessary you are well off, but if the eyes should require treatment, every day that passes without medical aid is a loss that perhaps can never be repaired. W. F. Hayes, the eye specialist, will tell you all about eye conditions. If they require glasses he will tell you so. If they need treatment he will also inform you. He does not fit glasses unless they are necessary. Consult him at our store Saturday or Monday each week.

THE ARREST OF LIEUTENANT GOLIGHTLY

By RUDYARD KIPLING.

"I've forgotten the countess!" sez 'e.
 "Oh! You have, have you?" sez I.
 "But I'm the colonel," sez 'e.
 "Oh! You are, are you?" sez I. "Colonel nor no colonel, you waint 'ere till I'm relieved an' the sergeant reports on your ugly old mug.
 Choo!" sez I.

"An' selp me soul, 'twas the colonel, after all! But I was a recruit then."—The Unedited Autobiography of Private Ortheris.

If there was one thing on which Golightly prided himself more than another, it was looking like "an officer and a gentleman." He said it was for the honor of the service that he attired himself so elaborately, but those who knew him best said that it was just personal vanity. There was no harm about Golightly—not an ounce. He recognized a horse when he saw one
 and could do more than fill a cantle.
 He played a very fair game at billiards
 and was a sound man at the whist table.
 Every one liked him, and nobody ever dreamed of seeing him handcuffed
 on a station platform as a deserter.
 But this sad thing happened.

He was going down from Dalhousie,
 at the end of his leave—riding down.
 He had cut his leave as fine as he dared
 and wanted to come down in a hurry.

It was fairly warm at Dalhousie,
 and, knowing what to expect below, he descended in a new khaki suit—tight fitting—of a delicate olive green; a peacock blue tie, white collar and a snowy white solah helmet. He prided himself on looking neat even when he was riding post. He did look neat, and he was so deeply concerned about his appearance
 before he started that he quite forgot to take anything but some small change with him. He left all his notes at the hotel. His servants had gone down the road before him, to be ready in waiting at Pathankote with a change of gear. That was what he called traveling in "light marching order." He was proud of his faculty of organization—
 what we call bundobust.

Twenty-two miles out of Dalhousie
 it began to rain—not a mere hill shower,
 but a good, tepid monsoonal down-pour.
 Golightly bustled on, wishing that he had brought an umbrella. The dust on the roads turned into mud, and the pony mired a good deal. So did Golightly's khaki gaiters. But he kept on steadily and tried to think how pleasant the colth was.

His next pony was rather a brute at starting and, Golightly's hands being slippery with the rain, contrived to get rid of Golightly at a corner. He chased the animal, caught it and went ahead briskly. The spill had not improved his clothes or his temper, and he had lost one spur. He kept the other one employed. By the time that stage was ended the pony had had as much exercise
 as he wanted, and, in spite of the rain, Golightly was sweating freely. At the end of another miserable half hour Golightly found the world disappear before his eyes in clammy pulp. The rain had turned the pith of his huge and snowy solah-topie into an evil smelling dough, and it had closed on his head
 like a half opened mushroom; also the green lining was beginning to run.

Golightly did not say anything worth recording here. He tore off and squeezed up as much of the brim as was in his eyes and plowed on. The back of the helmet was flapping on his neck, and the sides stuck to his ears, but the leather band and green lining kept things roughly together, so that the hat
 did not actually melt away where it flapped.

Presently the pulp and the green stuff made a sort of slimy midew, which ran over Golightly in several directions
 —down his back and bosom for choice.
 The khaki color ran, too—it was really shockingly bad dye—and sections of Golightly were brown, and patches were violet, and contours were ochre, and streaks were ruddy red, and blotches were nearly white, according to the nature and peculiarities of the dye.
 When he took out his handkerchief to wipe his face and the green of the hat lining and the purple stuff that had soaked through on to his neck from the tie became thoroughly mixed, the effect was amazing.

Near Dhar the rain stopped, and the evening sun came out and dried him up slightly. It fixed the colors too. Three miles from Pathankote the last pony fell dead lame, and Golightly was forced to walk. He pushed on into Pathankote to find his servants. He did not know then that his khizmatgar had stopped by the roadside to get drunk
 and would come on the next day saying that he had sprained his ankle. When he got into Pathankote, he couldn't find his servants, his boots were stiff and rory with mud, and there were large quantities of dirt about his body.
 The blue tie had run as much as the khaki. So he took it off with the collar and threw it away. Then he said something about servants generally and tried to get a peg. He paid 8 annas for the drink, and this revealed to him that he had only 6 annas more in his pocket—
 or in the world as he stood at that hour.

He went to the station master to negotiate for a first class ticket to Khasa,
 where he was stationed. The booking clerk said something to the station master, the station master said something to the telegraph clerk, and the three looked at him with curiosity. They asked him to wait for half an hour, while they telegraphed to Umritsar for authority. So he waited, and four constables came and grouped themselves picturesquely round him. Just as he was preparing to ask them to go away
 the station master said that he would give the sahib a ticket to Umritsar, if the sahib would kindly come inside the booking office. Golightly stepped inside, and the next thing he knew was that a constable was attached to each of his legs and arms, while the station
 master was trying to cram a mail bag
 over his head.

There was a very fair scuffle all round

the booking office, and Golightly received a nasty cut over his eye through falling against a table. But the constables were too much for him, and they and the station master handcuffed him securely. As soon as the mail bag was slipped, he began expressing his opinions, and the head constable said:
 "Without doubt this is the soldier Englishman we required. Listen to the abuse!" Then Golightly asked the station master what the this and the that the proceedings meant. The station master told him he was "Private John Binkle of the ——— regiment, 5 feet 9 inches, fair hair, gray eyes and a dissipated appearance, no marks on the body," who had deserted a fortnight ago. Golightly began explaining at great length, and the more he explained
 the less the station master believed him.
 He said that no lieutenant could look such a ruffian as did Golightly, and that his instructions were to send his capture under proper escort to Umritsar.
 Golightly was feeling very damp
 and uncomfortable, and the language
 he used was not fit for publication, even in an expurgated form. The four constables saw him safe to Umritsar in an "intermediate" compartment, and he spent the four hour journey in abus-ing them as flunkeys as his knowledge of the vernaculars allowed.

At Umritsar he was bundled out on the platform into the arms of a corporal and two men of the ——— regiment. Golightly drew himself up and tried to carry off matters jauntily. He did not feel too jauntily in handcuffs, with four constables behind him and the blood from the cut on his forehead stiffening on his left cheek. The corporal was not jocular either. Golightly got as far as:
 "This is a very absurd mistake, my men," when the corporal told him to "stow his lip" and come along. Golightly did not want to come along. He desired to stop and explain. He explained very well indeed until the corporal cut in with: "You a officer! It's the like of you as brings disgrace on the likes of us. Bloomin fine officer you are! I know your regiment. The 'Rogues' March' is the quickstep where you come from. You're a black shame
 to the service."

Golightly kept his temper and began explaining all over again from the beginning. Then he was marched out of the rain into the refreshment room and told not to make a qualified fool of himself. The men were going to run him up to Fort Govindgarh. And "running up" is a performance almost as undignified as the "Frog March."

Golightly was nearly hysterical with rage and the chill and the mistake and the handcuffs and the headache that the cut on his forehead had given him.
 He really laid himself out to express what was in his mind. When he had quite finished and his throat was feeling dry, one of the men said, "I've
 'eard a few beggars in the click blind,
 stiff and crack on a bit, but I've never
 'eard any one to touch this is 'or-cer." They were not angry with him.
 They rather admired him. They had some beer at the refreshment room and offered Golightly some, too, because he had "swore won'erful." They asked him to tell them all about the adventures of Private John Binkle while he was loose on the countryside, and that made Golightly wilder than ever. If he had kept his wits about him, he would have kept quiet until an officer came,
 but he attempted to run.

Now, the butt of a Martini in the small of your back hurts a great deal,
 and rotten, rain soaked khaki tears easily when two men are jerking at your collar.

Golightly rose from the floor feeling very sick and giddy, with his shirt ripped open all down his breast and nearly all down his back. He yielded to his luck, and at that point the down train from Lahore came in, carrying one of Golightly's majors.

This is the major's evidence in full:
 "There was the sound of a scuffle in the second class refreshment room, so I went in and saw the most villainous loafer that I ever set eyes on. His boots and breeches were plastered with mud and beer stains. He wore a muddy white dunghill sort of thing on his head and it hung down in slips on his shoulders, which were a good deal scratched.
 He was half in and half out of a shirt
 as nearly in two pieces as it could be,
 and he was begging the guard to look at the name on the tail of it. As he had rucked the shirt all over his head, I couldn't at first see who he was, but I fancied that he was a man in the first stage of D. T. from the way he swore while he wrestled with his rags. When he turned round, and I had made allowances for a lump as big as a pork pie
 over one eye and some green war paint
 on the face and some violet stripes round the neck, I saw that it was Golightly. He was very glad to see me," said the major, "and he hoped I would not tell the mess about it. I didn't, but you can, if you like, now that Golightly
 has gone home."

Golightly spent the greater part of that summer in trying to get the corporal and the two soldiers tried by court martial for arresting an "officer and a gentleman." They were, of course, very sorry for their error. But the tale leaked into the regimental canteen and thence ran about the province.

He Got the Money.

The youngest son of a distinguished citizen of Chicago went abroad with a liberal amount of money for a boy of his age, not long ago, and after a month
 in London, he cabled to his father,
 "Please send $100 quick," and signed
 his name, Willie Blank.

Mr. Blank took this cable to the office of his eldest son and said, in a puzzled way: "Willie has just cabled for $100. Now, I wonder what the boy wants to do with it."

"Cable and find out," was the suggestion, and Mr. Blank sent to Willie Blank this message: "What do you want money for?"

A few hours later came the reply,
 "For Willie."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

To Plan Next House.

Washington, July 7.—Gen. Henderson, speaker-to-be of the house, is in Washington and will remain here until Saturday, when he will take a steamer
 at Baltimore and go by sea to Boston
 in company with his wife and daughter.
 Gen. Henderson is not going to the sea shore for recreation alone, but to get where he can plan in peace and quiet
 the reorganization of the next house.
 The house will have seventy new members, and it will be his business and his duty to acquaint himself as fully as possible with their qualifications in order that he may give them committee assignments for the best general
 good and to best suit their special fitness for legislative work.

Peoria Wants the President.

Peoria, July 7.—President McKinley will be personally invited and urged to visit Peoria in October, when the new soldiers' monument is dedicated.
 The women of the Memorial Day association, who raised funds for the monument, have set their hearts upon having the president here upon that occasion, and will be sorely disappointed if he cannot come. Mayor
 Henry W. Lynch, Dr. George A. Zeller and Herman H. Griggs departed for Washington to secure, if possible, a promise from McKinley. They will be accompanied to the white house by Senator Cullom.

Will Fight Steel Trust.

St. Louis, Mo., July 7.—The Republic says: "A company has just been organized in this city to build the large-est and most complete steel plant in the west. Incorporation papers will be filed and the erection of the factory will begin at once. It is understood that the new company will be prepared to fight the steel trust."

Gen. Randolph at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 7.—Brig.-Gen.
 Wallace Randolph, U. S. V., has reported at army headquarters in this city for duty. He will probably succeed Col. Freeman in command at the Presidio when the latter sails for the Philippines on July 12.

Another Yellow Fever Victim.

Washington, July 7.—The war department has been advised of the death
 at Santiago de Cuba of Lieut. Mc-Laughlin, volunteer signal corps.
 Lieut. McLaughlin was a victim of yellow fever.

Big Increase in Fire Losses.

Boston, Mass., July 7.—The fire loss
 for the half year for the United States and Canada has just been issued, and it affords little comfort to fire underwriters. Comparison of the report with the two previous half years ended June 30 shows an increase of loss this year of more than $7,000,000.

Plans for Arbitration.

The Hague, July 7.—The revised proposal regarding the institution of a permanent court of arbitration,
 which will be submitted to the committee to-day, consists of fifty-six articles. Those regarding the constitution of the court itself are substantially identical with Sir Julian Pauncefote's original project.

Squatters Must Move Out.

Washington, July 7.—Secretary
 Hitchcock announced finally that there would be neither a suspension nor modification of the order of June 22 directing the removal of all trespassers
 or intruders on the lands of the Leech Lake Indian reservation in Minnesota within thirty days therefrom.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FLOOD SUFFERERS STARVE.

Immediate Measures of Relief Needed in Texas.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO HELP.

Secretary Alger Will Co-operate with Gov. Sayers in the Work—Thousands of Negroes Have Been Without Food for Three or Four Days.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—Every possible effort is being made by Gov. Sayers, the mayors of numerous cities of the state, and many business firms and individuals to relieve the great distress that now exists among the flood sufferers in the several counties along the lower courses of the Brazos river. Gov. Sayers received the following reply to his telegram to Secretary Alger asking that federal aid be rendered the starving and water-bound people:

"Washington, July 6.—Gov. Joseph D. Sayers, Austin, Tex.: Chief of engineers will place at your order all boats available at Galveston, and commanding officer at San Antonio has been directed to place at your immediate disposal 10,000 rations and to confer with you as to points of delivery.

R. A. Alger, "Secretary of War."

Immediately upon receipt of this telegram Gov. Sayers instructed Adj.-Gen. Thomas to begin the work of sending the rations to those river points which could be reached by railroad transportation. The greatest destruction, according to reports that have been received here, is found in Waller, Washington, Austin, Brazoria and Burleson counties. It is estimated that there are not fewer than 10,000 negroes, men women and children, in those four counties who have been wholly without food and shelter for nearly three days.

The small towns along the banks of streams have been depleted of their stores and provisions, and in some places the inhabitants who suffered no personal loss or damage from the inundations are also without food supplies. This condition of affairs is particularly true of a number of towns that have been cut off from railroad communication with the outside world for several days.

The stories of the death, devastation and starvation coming from several points along the river from Burleson county to Matagorda county, a distance of over 200 miles, are harrowing in the extreme.

The flood did not begin to subside near the gulf Wednesday night, as had been expected, but continued to rise until about noon Thursday, and since then has been almost at a standstill. The Southern Pacific railroad, which was believed to be far above the highest water mark of the Brazos and the Colorado rivers, was forced to submit to the inevitable, and all through traffic on that road is tied up. Many miles of railroad track have been washed out.

The extensive state penitentiary in Fort Bend county is under water to a depth of several feet and the loss to the state from the ruined sugar cane crops, sugar houses and other valuable properties will aggregate $300,000.

Gov. Sayers has received additional information that the total number of sufferers was not less than 40,000, and that the necessity of immediate aid in the way of food was urgent. Acting on these advices the governor requested of the secretary of war that an additional 10,000 rations be furnished the famished people. The request was granted. Five thousand rations will be shipped from Fort Sam Houston to Richmond, Fort Bend county, and 5,000 to Sealy, Austin county. The other 10,000 rations will be distributed from places in that section. Capt. S. P. Selker, quartermaster of the Texas rangers, has gone to Richmond to superintend the distribution of the rations.

Gov. Sayers has been asked by Representative W. H. Ellis to call a special session of the legislature to relieve the distress in the flooded sections.

TO BOOM CAUSE OF SILVER.

Friends of the White Metal to Rally in Chicago July 20.

Chicago, July 7.—Gen. A. J. Warner of Marietta, Ohio, has called a convention of the American Bimetallic league to meet in this city July 20. The call provides for not less than two delegates from each state.

Judge James P. Tarrin of Covington, Ky., and Allen W. Clark of Greensburg, Ind., acting for the Ohio Valley Bimetallic league, which recently held a convention at Louisville, have sent word to league friends all over the country to rally here on July 20. Silver men, in numbers anywhere from one to twenty, are wanted from each state.

Between these two organizations, it looks promising for a gathering of not less than a couple of thousand of 16 to 1 supporters around the national democratic committee.

Covington, Ky., July 7.—The organization committee of the League of Bimetallic Clubs of the Ohio Valley Thursday sent out circulars to all states inviting democrats to meet at noon Thursday, July 20, at the Palmer house in Chicago, to devise plans for a more thorough organization, especially in the pivotal states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. The democratic national committee will meet at the Palmer house July 20.

For Bryan and Free Silver.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 7.—The Mohawks, a democratic organization, said to comprise 600 wigwags and over 50,000 active members, which has been in secret session here since Monday, has elected officers and adjourned to meet next year in the city selected for the national democratic convention, one week prior to that convention. Steps were taken to begin immediately the work of organizing new wigwags. The resolutions adopted denounce trusts and monopolies, endorsed Bryan and free silver and opposed militarism.

James R. Sovereign of Idaho was elected national chief and national organizer.

Flag of Germany Is Feared.

Bremen, July 7.—The Hanseatic Colonization company of Hamburg and Bremen has just received a long report from its agents in Brazil regarding the impression made there by the demand of the colonial party in Germany that the company's lands be made a German colony. This report, according to the Hanseatic company's report, has caused consternation in Brazil. Anti-German mass meetings have been held in the principal cities to protest against the suggested encroachment, and demonstrations have been made against the government of the republic, also, for having conceded to aliens such a vast tract in southern Brazil.

Robert Bonner Is Dead.

New York, July 7.—Robert Bonner, publisher of the New York Ledger and owner of famous horses, died at his home in this city at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night. Mr. Bonner had been ill for some months, but was able to be about until about ten days ago. Death was due to a general breaking down of the system.

Rank, but Not Pay for Sampson.

Washington, July 7.—The acting comptroller of the treasury rendered a decision that Rear Admiral W. T. Sampson is not entitled to the pay of that grade from Aug. 10, 1898, when he was commissioned by the president, to March 4 last. The comptroller holds that the advancement in numbers under section 1506 does not create a vacancy from the time when the president decides to recommend such advancement, nor is any vacancy created prior to the date when the senate concurs in the president's recommendation.

Ships Bring Yellow Jack.

New York, July 7.—The transport McClellan arrived here from Santiago and was detained at quarantine. Her surgeon reports that three of the passengers have yellow fever. Two of these are cabin passengers. One is Miss Clendenin, daughter of the surgeon in charge at Santiago, whose death from yellow fever is reported.

WANTS ROBERTS UNSEATED.

Christian Endeavorer Denounces the Utah Congressman.

CHARGED WITH POLYGAMY.

Strong Memorial to Congress Will Probably Be the Result of the Rev. W. M. Paden's Appeal—Many Meetings Held in Detroit.

Detroit, July 7.—An impassioned appeal to 10,000 people in Tent Endeavor was made last night by Rev. W. M. Paden, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Salt Lake City. He urged the 3,000,000 members of the Christian Endeavor society to use every means in their power toward unseating B. H. Roberts, the recently elected congressman from Utah. He boldly charged Mr. Roberts with being a polygamist—indeed, one "who is living with at least three wives." He stated that Roberts' election to congress has again made polygamy a living issue in Utah, and that the pulpits and most of the press of the state are arrayed solidly in the war against having such a representative in the halls of our national legislature.

The address created such a profound stir that at the meeting of the trustees of the united societies a strong memorial to congress and to the people of the country at large will undoubtedly be drafted. Mr. Paden came to Detroit at the instigation of the pulpit of the state of Utah to make this appeal.

Thursday morning the convention sermon was delivered by Dr. Frank Gunsaulus of Chicago. He spoke to the topic suggested by "The Inscription on the Cross of Jesus," making a powerful plea to an audience that had to rise rather early to get there to hear him. Then, too, Dr. Frank A. Noble of Chicago delivered a characteristic address on "War Against War." This was given in Tent Endeavor.

In the afternoon meetings were held in twenty-eight churches of Detroit. These were the much-heralded denominational gatherings, and all of them drew full houses.

Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society, and Mr. Baer, the secretary, gave their regular annual report Thursday. The secretary reported a growth during the year of 2,000 societies, with over 100,000 new members. "The official enrollment," he said, "is 55,813 societies, with a total membership of 3,500,000."

At noon meetings were held by various Christian Endeavor bands at the factories, along the wharves and on the public squares. These crowds went on their mission singing hymns and kneeling in prayer.

Today's work began at 6:30 a. m. with the board of trustees in session. Besides the question of polygamy and of unseating Mr. Roberts, the board will undoubtedly pass a resolution favoring the closing of the gates of the Ohio centennial, to be held in Toledo in 1902, on the Sabbath day. This will be done at the earnest petition of the clergy of the exhibition city, who sent a committee of three to Detroit to urge the Christian Endeavor board to go on record.

Big Railway Systems Unite.

New York, July 7.—The Times says: "The New York Central has entered into a compact with the Pennsylvania railroad, and the two systems are now practically one. The compact was planned by W. K. Vanderbilt, who is now the largest stockholder of the Pennsylvania road."

What a Little Faith Did FOR MRS. ROCKWELL.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 69,884.]
"I was a great sufferer from female weakness and had no strength. It was impossible for me to attend to my household duties. I had tried everything and many doctors, but found no relief."

"My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did; before using all of one bottle I felt better. I kept on with it and to my great surprise I am cured. All who suffer from female complaints should give it a trial."—MRS. ROCKWELL, 1209 S. DIVISION ST., GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

From a Grateful Newark Woman.

"When I wrote to you I was very sick, had not been well for two years. The doctors did not seem to help me, and one said I could not live three months. I had womb trouble, falling, ulcers, kidney and bladder trouble. There seemed to be such a drawing and burning pain in my bowels that I could not rest anywhere. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash and following your advice, I feel well again and stronger than ever. My bowels feel as if they had been made over new. With many thanks for your help, I remain, L. G., 74 ANN ST., NEWARK, N. J."

MISTAKEN TIPPING.

Americans Abroad Frequently Pay Too Much for Services.

An American recently arrived in London from a southern city, and being in haste to continue his journey to Paris, hired a cabman to take him on one of his errands. Handing the man a two shilling piece, he directed him to a certain number in New Bond street. After seating himself in the cab, the passenger waited for several minutes, expecting the horse to start. At last he left the cab and found the driver on the box inspecting the coin, which was double the usual fare. "What is the matter?" asked the indignant traveler. "This seems to be a very small coin for so long a distance," was the surly response. The American smiled grimly and remarked that the cabman could drive him at once to Scotland Yard. As this is the headquarters of the police, the driver perceived that the American was not a man to be swindled. "I'll drive you to New Bond street," he remarked promptly. "If you will get in, sir." "Wait a moment," said the American. "I want you to look me over carefully. Now tell me," he continued, "what it was in my appearance that led you to think me an idiot. Was it my hat or my collar, or the cut of my overcoat? I have already paid you double fare for the distance I have asked you to go, but I'll give you as much more if you will tell me what there is in my general make-up that encouraged you to believe that I could be fool enough to allow you to cheat me." The cabman by this time looked sheepish and uncomfortable. "I took you for an American, sir," he said, "and thought I could work another shilling out of you. Here is one of the shillings you gave me and I am ready to drive you to New Bond street." The American had made two mistakes. He ought not to have paid double fare, and he ought not to have paid in advance. By violating the ordinary rules observed by people who hire London cabs, he encouraged the cabman to swindle him. The most judicious course for a traveler in a foreign country is to learn the customs of the people in it, and not throw away money by overpaying cabmen and tipping servants too generously.—Youth's Companion.

WHITE HOUSE CHINA.

A New Set Made and Marked for Each Administration.

The white house china is manufactured and decorated especially for the president's house, says the New York Mail and Express. When a new administration comes in, a new set of china is made and marked with the name of the president. Of course the old china is kept, the new being only of sufficient quantity to make up for the breakage and loss during the last administration. The decoration of the china consists of a dark blue border, with gold tracings in shape of corn-stalks and ears, while in the center of the white plate is the coat-of-arms of the United States in colors. The best of artists are employed to paint these plates, and, as each one is marked with the name of the administration, each has a value. It is often quite an interesting part of a white house dinner for the guests while waiting for the courses to turn their plates to see to what administration they belonged. The china of the white house is in the special charge of the steward, and he is responsible to the government for it. It is rare that any of it gets out of the white house, and therefore the appearance of the two plates in the auction room last week caused comment. The price paid for them ($4 apiece) was certainly remarkably low, in view of their value to collectors.
